

9520 HIGHWAY 6 Silverton British Columbia

$210,000

This idyllic 9.8-acre parcel of land offers a private oasis with the potential for microhydropower. With its sloped terrain, there are numerous suitable building sites to choose from. An established driveway leads to an elevated location on the property. Two watercourses, including the named Cory Creek, flow through the land, providing an excellent source for power diversion. The forested area is populated with a variety of mixed species, adding to the natural beauty of the surroundings. This desirable acreage presents an exceptional opportunity to create your dream home or explore the possibilities of renewable energy generation. (id:6769)
