

6161 Lacon Rd Denman Island BC

$1,450,000

Set on a stunning west-facing oceanfront lot, this custom home by Michael McNamara of Blue Sky Design is a masterful blend of contemporary architecture and natural materials. The open-concept layout is bathed with light from the bank of west-facing windows, with the ocean and mountain views framed by gary oaks and arbutus. The maple and radiant-heat polished concrete floors and custom cabinetry, create a spacious and warm feeling throughout, harmonizing with the surroundings. Upstairs, the private primary suite is a serene retreat with a walk-out rooftop deck showcasing spectacular sunset views. An attached guest wing provides comfort and privacy for visitors, and the detached carport/storage room could be finished into a workshop. The garden features roses, ornamental perennials, and fruit and nut trees, with a newly-rebuilt trellis surrounding the home. A private staircase leads down to a sheltered beach, perfect for summer swims.
