$679,900

This is the kind of layout growing families chase and rarely find at this price. With 2,280 SF, 4 bedrooms upstairs, and a vaulted bonus room, this Lake Summerside home gives you the space to keep up with real life as your family grows. Movie nights that don't take over the living room. A teen hangout that stays upstairs. A playroom that finally has its own zone. The main floor den adds the flexibility most homes at this price don't offer. A real home office when you need it, a study space when the kids do. The backyard is its own quiet advantage. No neighbours looking in, no windows facing yours, just open space behind you instead of another fence line. Upstairs, the primary suite feels like a reset at the end of the day. The soaker tub and glass shower make it a perfect space to step away from the noise. Add 2.5 baths, a double attached garage, and access to Summerside's private lake, beach club, and year round community, and you have a home built to grow with your family instead of against it.
