

1965 Pandosy Street 201 Kelowna British Columbia

Kelowna South

$419,000

Nestled in the sought-after Brookshire building, a short walk to downtown and the beach. This spacious corner unit with a private entryway offers the perfect blend of comfort, functionality, and central Kelowna living. Bright and inviting, your next home's layout is filled with natural light thanks to large windows that wrap the corner of the home, creating an open and airy feel throughout. This well-designed floor plan features separation between living spaces and bedrooms, offering both privacy and flow. The generous living area connects seamlessly to a covered patio, ideal for morning coffee and relaxing evenings. The large kitchen is both practical and welcoming, with ample counter space and an eat-up area that makes everyday living easy. Thoughtful touches throughout the home, including new flooring, create a warm, livable space that suits a wide range of buyers, from first-time purchasers to downsizers or investors looking for a strong central location. Brookshire is known for its quiet, well-maintained setting while still being close to everything Kelowna has to offer, including the Abbott Street corridor. Just minutes from downtown, the hospital, beaches, shopping, and transit routes, you'll enjoy convenience without sacrificing a sense of community. A rare opportunity to own a bright corner unit in a proven location. This is Kelowna living made easy. (id:6769)
