

Whitehorse Yukon

$639,900

This well-maintained home offers a modern architectural style and an open concept feel across three levels. Built in 2014, the residence spans 2,115 square feet of finished space and features a neutral color palette that enhances the bright natural light streaming through large windows. The interior layout includes four bedrooms and four bathrooms, with a combination of hardwood, laminate, tile, and carpet flooring throughout. The kitchen is designed for both functionality and entertaining, highlighted by a convenient kitchen island and designated dining area all open to the living room. Parking is provided in the back as well as a double detached garage, and a storage shed is included for extra utility. The home presents a clean, spacious feel with a well-presented condition, making it a practical and appealing option for those seeking a contemporary residence in a desirable location. (id:6769)
