

3885 Miller Road Kelowna British Columbia

South East Kelowna

$1,900,000

Welcome to a home where life slows down, space opens up, and every day feels more peaceful. Tucked away on a quiet dead-end road in Southeast Kelowna, this 5.2-acre property offers the kind of privacy and calm that's getting harder to find. The home itself feels warm and inviting--nicely updated, and ready for someone who wants room to breathe and room to grow. Out front, a sprawling 1.6 acres of flat, usable land, including an auxiliary shop, gives you freedom to create: plant, build, play, or simply enjoy the open space. Another massive 1900 sq/ft shop stands ready for hobbyists, collectors, or those who need serious workspace. Wander deeper into the property, and you'll find a charming cabin tucked among the trees--an ideal retreat for guests, creative projects, or generational living. Whether you dream of watching your kids chase the sun across the field, working on passion projects, or waking up surrounded by nature each morning, this property offers a rare blend of comfort, possibility, and tranquillity. 3885 Miller Road isn't just a home--it's a setting for the life you've been imagining.
