Fintry

$750,000

What does your soul yearn for? A private sanctuary. Perhaps to live in an enclave surrounded by nature with a warm community spirit. Maybe you see yourself relaxing by day beside a resort-style pool, or do you see yourself enjoying the comforts of a well-built, well-laid-out cozy home with room to live, work, and play? Which would you choose? If you are the new owner of 750 Firwood, you can choose to have all of this and MORE! This custom-built home is as beautiful as it is practical and has an authentic feel of quality. Step out onto your deck and enjoy refreshments, then go cool off in the recently built pool, which adds a touch of luxury and a lot of fun to your life! Nearby, you can wander to beaches, hiking and biking trails, and so much more. This is a place where you can truly connect to nature or with friends and family close by. You are close to Kelowna or Vernon, and yet it feels like you have stepped back in time to a place where things move a little slower, people are less stressed, relationships matter more than technology, and life is lived in the moments you experience firsthand, not through a news channel or phone-screen. Life is for living, and THIS is a place where you can truly experience life in an authentic and meaningful way. If this is the lifestyle you crave and the home your soul has been yearning for...
