Welcome to 770 Johnston Drive! This sprawling bungalow has it all - a huge amount of interior living space, full basement, open floor plan, attached double garage, and a prime location. Located in the Assiniboia Park residential area, this 1800 sq.ft. home is close to school and parks. Inside the home, you'll immediately take note of the spacious interior. A cozy living room, complete with gas fireplace, greets you as you enter. Down the hall are two sizeable guest bedrooms. You'll appreciate that one has direct access to the main 4-piece bath - perfect for guests or kids. On the other side of the living room is access to the master suite with large bedroom area and incredible ensuite bath with double sinks, a second gas fireplace, corner soaker tub, separate shower and two skylights - a true retreat. Continuing into the home, you are treated to a bonus area which could serve as a sitting room, second dining area or an open office. There is access to the back pressure-treated deck from this area. Flowing from this is an amazing kitchen with a full-compliment of appliances and ample counter space and cabinetry. Through the galley kitchen, you find a spacious dining area, large enough to accommodate families of all sizes. Completing this space are two closets, a separate laundry area, and access to the double attached garage (with access to the back yard). This home has a full...
