$1,899,000

Mornings begin here with still water and soft light stretching across the lake. Coffee in hand, you step onto the upper deck from the primary suite as the Okanagan slowly wakes around you -- uninterrupted views, quiet shoreline, and the promise of another day shaped by the water. With approximately 66 feet of coveted lakeshore frontage, this extensively renovated home was designed to embrace its setting from every angle. Vaulted ceilings and exposed wood beams frame the main living space, while expansive windows pull the lake inward, filling the open-concept design with natural light and ever-changing views. The layout unfolds effortlessly for gathering. Family lingers around the kitchen, guests drift between indoors and out, and conversations carry easily onto the expansive decks. The former garage has been thoughtfully converted, allowing the home to function as a comfortable 3-bedroom retreat -- welcoming for both quiet weekends and full summer house parties. Afternoons are spent poolside overlooking the water, the lake stretching endlessly beyond. When it's time to swim or launch the boat, the private tram delivers you directly to the brand-new dock below -- no steep climb back up at sunset, just ease and convenience woven into everyday living. Evenings settle in slowly here. The sky softens, reflections dance across the water, and the decks become front-row seats to the kind of views people travel for. Peaceful and tucked along the shoreline, yet only four minutes to the heart of Peachland, this property offers that rare balance -- a sense of escape without sacrificing convenience. This is more than a waterfront home. It's where summer feels longer, mornings feel slower, and every season is shaped by the lake. (id:6769)
